Begin Labor Camp At Pines

A maintenance crew of 15 men began work at the old C. C. Camp at Hartwick Pines State Park Monday morning readying buildings for a convict labor camp which will include about 50, Leonard Jensen, State Park Manager said.

Material started to flow into the area last week and the crew is now busy constructing new buildings and reworking existing ones for the labor crew which is due into the camp in about a month, it was said.

The crew that will occupy the camp and work on various Conservation Department projects in the area are prisoners from State of Michigan prisons. All who come to the camp will be minor offenders with but a short time to go to finish out their sentences. The work in the Conservation camps is looked forward to by the prisoners and is viewed as an honor camp by prison officials. All convicts being sent to work camps are extremely carefully screened at the prison and anyone with the slightest hint of sex offense record is not sent out. The camps furnish training for those about to be released and an out of bounds area is set up around the camp from which the workers can not stray. They are accompanied by a guard from the camp to the work point and while at work and on the return trip.

Park Manager Jensen also reported that the picnic and camping area at the Hartwick Pines State Park has received the first of three sprayings that are scheduled with an insecticide. The spraying is free of insects, the Park Manager said, and as new hatches occur the remaining two scheduled sprayings will kill them off. Insectless picnic and camping grounds will make the park more useful and comfortable for tourists, Manager Jensen said.

Grayling Gets Great National Publicity In Holiday Magazine

The July issue of Holiday Magazine, one of the United States' plushiest travel and vacation publications, features a leading article on Michigan as a vacationland.

The leading photograph for the article covers two-thirds of a double page spread and is in full color. This feature shot is a canoeing picture taken on the AuSable River at Grayling. Further on the article contains a black and white picture taken at Lake Margrethe.

Some idea can be gained of the national publicity received when it is revealed that a single full page ad in color in the magazine sells for $5,760.00.

Arrangements for the article and accompanying pictures was made through the Michigan Tourist Council and the Eastern Michigan Tourist Association. The Michigan Tourist Council has used the magazine since its inception for advertising Michigan as the nation's top vacationland. Results from advertising in the publication have always been extremely good, tourist council officials said.

The article covers Michigan as a whole, but there is no doubt that Mackinac Island and Grayling got the big breaks in the article and we here should be extremely proud of the issue. The article contains a slight error in the quoted distance from Grayling to Lake Huron by the AuSable River, but it is negligible when the article is viewed as a whole.

P. S. (Suggestion to magazine dealers in Grayling—better load up on the July issue of Holiday Magazine.)

Two Local Men To Receive College Degrees

Two Grayling men, Howard Delamater and John R. Forbes are among the 3,814 candidates to receive degrees at the 107th Commencement in the huge Michigan Stadium on Saturday, June 16, at the University of Michigan.

Delamater will receive a Master Degree in Business Administration and Forbes will receive a Bachelor Degree in Business Administration.

Secretary Herbert G. Watkins emphasized that the 3,814 candidates for degrees at Saturday's Commencement have not as yet been certified by the faculty as actual graduates. He said the time required to record final grades coupled with the large number of candidates has prevented the compilation of a list of actual graduates in time for use before Commencement.

Dr. Ralph A. Bunche, director of the United Nations Department of Trusteeship and a Nobel Peace Prize winner, will be the speaker. Commencement is scheduled for 5 P. M. with President Alexander G. Ruthven presiding for the last time. He will retire August 31, after 22 years as head of the University. President-elect Harlan H. Hatcher will attend Commencement.

Winter Deer Kill History's Highest

The largest deer starvation loss in Michigan history, 35,000-50,000 animals, is reaffirmed by I. H. Bartlett, conservation department deer specialist, following the end of organized deer deer searches.

Preliminary loss estimate, made in March, was 35,000 to 50,000 deer.

On 1,250 square miles used as winter range—in a 5,000 square mile critical area—primarily in north central and north-eastern portions of the lower peninsula—the loss is conservatively estimated at 25-30 deer per square mile. Department supervised searches actually counted 1,345 carcasses in the critical area.

Bartlett estimates five percent more or about 15 percent of the total deer deer were adults. In previous years only about 10 percent were adults. The increase, he says, is another indication of the severe shortage of winter food in this region of the lower peninsula.

According to the final starvation report, whitetails roamed about two miles on the average or twice as far as in previous severe winters in the search for food.

First deer starvation was reported in mid-December and it continued to increase through early March, tapering down to nearly nothing by mid-April. In previous years, starved animals were not found before mid-February.

The "Real Cost" Of Meat

For some reason, there seems to be more talk about the price of meat than almost anything else. A great many people are honestly under the impression that meat prices are simply out of all reason, even after giving due consideration to the general inflation.

Well here are some facts which will help to correct that idea.

Meat prices, as everyone knows, are higher now than they were 25 or 50 years ago. So are the prices of practically everything else. But meat prices, believe it or not, have not increased as much as wages since 1901 or 1926. In other words, the "real cost" of meat—that is, the amount the working time a man must put in to buy it—is actually less than it used to be.

The concrete statistics are illuminating. In 1901 it took 52 minutes of work to buy a pound of meat. It took 37 minutes in 1926. It now takes 32 minutes. Putting the matter another way, to buy a week's supply of meat for one person required 2.5 hours of work in 1901, 1.6 hours in 1926, and the present figure is 1.5 hours.

All consumers naturally want meat prices to come down. Some argue that government controls should be used to roll the prices back to those of an arbitrary past date. Unfortunately, a price which is too low to allow producers a reasonable profit can result in only one thing—production cut-backs and scarcity. More and more of the available supply flows into the black market where the few buy at exorbitant prices and the racketeers get rich, but all the other general run of consumers do without.

Stabilization of meat prices, like all other prices, can only be accomplished through adequate production. All the controls in the world can't do away with that truism.

PLENTY DEGREES COOLER INSIDE

THESE folks are enjoying something that's being pioneered by Buick.

It's freedom from the blinding glare of bright summer sunlight.

It's freedom from hot laps—caused by the sun's rays beating down through the broad expanse of windshield.

These freedoms trace to a new feature you may have noticed in '51 Buicks—a new kind of glass with a cool, soft, blue-green tint, in every glass area of the car, front, side and back.

Buick engineers tell us that this "Buick first" reduces glare 18% over conventional glass—cuts sun heat as much as 45%—and Buick engineers are very conservative fellows.

This glare-and-heat-reducing Easy-eye glass is factory-installed at moderate extra charge. It gives you a built-in transparent "sun visor" right in the windshield—and it also dulls the dazzle of oncoming headlights at night.

As we've said, this is something Buick owners were the first to enjoy. It takes

As we've also said—rather modestly—"Smart buys Buick."

Come in soon and find out what an understatement that really is.

Equipment, accessories, trim and models are subject to change without notice. *Standard on Roadmaster, optional at extra cost on other Series.

Pictured above is the new tourist aid sign erected by the Grayling Sportsmen's Club along US-27 at the south edge of Grayling. The sign points out the natural attractions of this area plus accommodation points in and near Grayling for lodging and meals. It was erected on a sign belonging to the Rialto Theater who donated the use of the board. The aid sign should give the tourist a definite idea of where and about how far the place is that he is headed for in Grayling. The Club plans to have the sign made up into a place mat which will be made available to the restaurants and eating establishments of this area. The place mats will be widely used by the tourists as a map to the area and it is further felt that they will be taken home by the traveling public as a souvenir where they will continue to do the job of "selling" Grayling and the vicinity.

America's Blood Stained Highways

The following editorial appeared in the June issue of Capper's Farmers Magazine and was brought to our attention by one of our readers. The Avalanche is happy to reprint it and sincerely hopes that it will in some way help reduce the tragic loss of life on the highways of America.

"Deaths and injuries on American highways in 1950 were 30 times greater than total United States casualties in the Korean war. The highway death toll was 35,500, the largest since 1911. That is 3,700 more fatalities than occurred in 1949.

"A new all-time high was attained in injuries to persons in street and highway accidents, with a total of 1,799,800. Increase in injuries was 235,800 for the tragic year. This black record is written in blood on streets and highways from one end of this country to another. It is appalling and shameful.

"Once more excessive speed was the most potent killer. It caused 13,300 deaths. It also resulted in injuries to 475,500 persons. Speed was a greater factor in traffic casualties in 1950 than at any previous time. And inexperienced drivers are not to blame for this terrible toll. Drivers with at least one year's experience were responsible for 98 per cent of last year's fatal traffic accidents. Familiarity with motorcars seems to encourage carelessness. It is time to slow down. Step lightly on the throttle. Save the lives of those you love and your own.

These figures are taken from a booklet just issued by the Travelers Insurance Companies of Hartford, Connecticut. Ask your local newspaper to print some of the shocking facts it contains and help reduce this annual tragedy."

POWER- PACKED

-and then some!

THERE are a lot of reasons you can expect a new GMC to keep hauling a lot longer than any other truck you can buy.

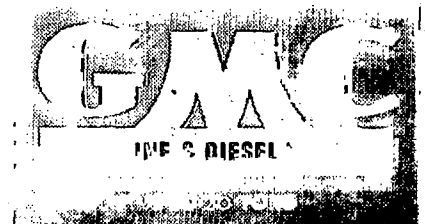

First is the fact of horsepower. Whether it's a gasoline-powered 1/2- to 2-tonner with horsepower unbeaten in its class, or one of the new heavy-duty Diesels—you can't beat a GMC for "go!"

Put the extra value you find in these great trucks down to the power plant.

There's the smooth GMC Synchro-Mesh Transmission linked to a sharp-shooting drive line, pouring every ounce of power back to the rugged rear axle. And the solid way horsepower becomes wheel-action—you know there's extra depth of truck performance engineered right down through a GMC's broad-shouldered frame!

And standing guard over these long-time trucks are husky brakes with more area than most—the surest, easiest steering ever devised to direct a payload home—all controlled from a spacious "Six-Footer" Cab that's Weathersealed for a lifetime.

GMC's come in the widest range of engine-body-chassis combinations to fit any trucking need. The prices? No better buy anywhere! Come see for yourself.

"It is also vital that the views of the candidate chosen by Republicans be in fundamental accord with those of Michigan's greatest statesman, Arthur Vandenberg. In addition, Republicans will doubtless want a man whose choice would give fair geographical representation to all of Michigan, who has served in our Armed Forces and who has a thorough knowledge of world affairs.

"This is a crusade to bring back in our nation's capitol honest, responsible government which sells favors and

Martin, 41, was born and educated in Grand Rapids. He graduated from Dartmouth College, attended Oxford University, England as a Rhodes Scholar and received his law degree from the University of Michigan Law School.

During World War II, he helped organize and later headed the National Office of Civilian Defense in Washington, which was created to protect civilians from enemy bombing attacks. Later commissioned in the United States Navy, he was assigned to foreign secret service work in Europe.

After the war he served on the staff of the United States Prosecutor of Axis War Criminals at Nuremberg. He left the service in 1946 a Lieutenant Commander to become a partner in the Grand Rapids law firm of Bidwell, Schmidt & Martin.

In 1948 he was elected State Senator from Kent County and Grand Rapids and in 1950 was elected Auditor General with a total vote of more than 940,000 and a majority of 120,000.

In the Michigan Senate, working with other Republicans, he supported actively and voted for a long-range program for construction of mental hospitals, lightening of tax and welfare laws to prevent chiseling, important improvements in the Workmen's Disability Compensation Act, the Little Bill to remove gross abuses in car financing, a better roads program, strong conservation enforcement legislation and adequate old age assistance benefits.

As Auditor General he has insisted that sound business practices be applied to government operations.

He is a member of the State Bar of Michigan, the American Legion, V. F. W., Amvets, Rotary, Elks, Grand Valley Boy Scout Council, Orange and National Press Club.

He married Helen Hickam in 1934 and they have four children.

Hope "Cappy" Told Him Where To Get Off!

"Cappy" Fisher—who just retired after thirty-five years as a railroad conductor—was telling about a salesman who was often one of his passengers.

"That man was so busy," says Cappy, "he used to bring a dictaphone on the train to catch up on his letters. On one trip he'd been rushing around so much he clean forgot to bring his ticket. Left it on his desk."

When Cappy started to tell him not to worry about the ticket, the salesman busts out with "Who's worried about the ticket? It's just that now I don't know what city I was going to get off at!"

Cappy might have been pulling our leg, but from where I sit, lots of us get so wrapped up in ourselves we often forget "where we're going." Some folks get so narrow they even begrudge their neighbors the right to enjoy a glass of beer now and then. Let's not forget that just as trains run on steam and oil, democracies run on freedom and tolerance!

Michigan Mirror
Non-Partisan News Letter

With the adjournment of the legislature the political pot has subsided to a mere simmer—the large question in Michigan being,
of course, the race for the Senate next fall. But the gubernatorial picture must not be overlooked.
Republicans have more or less settled on Fred M. Alger, Jr., secretary of state, as their standard bearer in the next election. Mystery shrouds the Democratic position.

Will Williams run? Yes, most agree—unless he gets a bid from Washington. The popular young governor has been clocked as a possible vice-presidential starter.
Washington isn't talking yet.

Business in Michigan has declined. In April sales tax collections in the state totaled $19,529, 793, a drop of $1,000,000 from the previous month. Half of the decline was in automobile sales.

After battling through hundreds of amendments to the state budget bill, legislative aides report the total figure to be $308,113,205.
Expenditures: $119,916,694, general; $89,032,394, school aid; $14, 679,157, repayment of veterans bonds; $1,900,000 civil service, and $585,000, airport matching money.

Lansing, which has the only state-owned airport in Michigan (Capitol City Airport), will get $100,000 for port improvements to be matched by an equal amount from the federal government.
Former Governor Kim Sigler, a flying enthusiast, claims Lansing
has the nation's second worst state capitol airport.

Saginaw, in passing a municipal income tax on business, has stirred up a cyclone of reaction. This may be the answer for funds-starved cities all over the state.
But corporations and big businesses already are preparing their arguments against similar action
in other areas.

Detroit national guardsmen may lose their gigantic north side armory. Purchased from the federal government in 1948, the 10-acre building was released on the stipulation that it could be reclaimed in case of emergency.

Now the Vickers company may get it back to work on navy contracts. The property originally cost $3,966,000, was sold to the state for $25,000 and would require $1,000,000 to convert back to war plant status.

Michigan trout fishermen polled recently favored more stream improvement and approved a larger trout stamp fee to finance added work.

A measure to combat bootlegging of cigarettes has been signed into law. Designed to prevent bringing tobacco from other states into Michigan without paying up the local taxes, the law stiffens penalties by making it a felony in cases of violations involving more than $50 worth of cigarettes.

Senator Homer Ferguson has started a "background" luncheon
custom with newsmen in Washington who represent Michigan newspapers and radio stations. Each Thursday they have a Dutch treat meal in Ferguson's office while he briefs them on background and matters relating to this state.

Deer herd reproduction in critically over-browsed areas may be reduced by 50 per cent this spring, according to conservation department officials.

The state civilian defense headquarters has organized 28-100

plane-air mobile defense units.
The units would supply fast transportation of needed specialists and supplies in time of emergency.
Backbone of the setup is the 5,011 volunteer pilots, 243 airports and 182 aviation schools co-operating with the project.

Some 4,598 new teachers will be graduated from Michigan colleges this year as against 1,360 four years ago, but the teacher shortage will continue. Dr. T. Luther Purdon, University of Michigan
director of occupational information, predicts 2,000 more instructors will be needed.

A man who makes money hand over fist usually has a wife who makes the fist hand over the money.

Ignorance of the law is no excuse for a lawyer not collecting his fee.

Children may tear up a house
but they seldom break up a home.
Our greatest trouble today is that our neighbors are always buying something we can't afford.
The best way to get rid of work

is to do it.
Some girls use pills to get rid of headaches others use headaches to get rid of pills.
